

Nomination Tips

Tips for a successful nomination

Before submitting, utilize the Submission Checklist to ensure your nomination is the best it can be.

- Did you consider Skills For Success in your nomination?
- Does your nomination address all of the criteria in the category description? You can also check out the review rubric.
- Is your nomination within the character limit (3,000 character limitation including spaces and punctuation) and submitted through the system?
- Was your nomination thoughtful and persuasive?

Additional Tips to consider:

- Get a second opinion – have someone review your nomination before submitting
 - Trouble getting started? Access our nomination editors to help you organize your thoughts, edit drafts, and proofread final version before submitting
 - Andrea Smith (ams754)
 - Remember: the system allows 3,000 characters, not words (including punctuation, spacing etc) which is almost a full page in Word. We recommend writing your nomination in Word then pasting it into the nomination form.
 - Many prior year awardees had nominations well under the character limit.
 - Make sure you save a Word document of your final draft before submitting your nomination. This allows you to share it with the nominee if you wish, or use it in a performance dialogue if the nominee is your employee.
 - Re-nominating? If you would like to re-nominate someone for an award, we highly recommended you go through the submission checklist before submitting.
-