Cornell Kids @Work Frequently Asked Questions

Why has the program moved to July?

Safety during the pandemic remains an important concern, particularly for indoor events. Warmer weather allows us to better enjoy Cornell's beautiful campus and outdoor spaces. And late April is a very busy time for students as well as the Cornell campus - we believe that moving to July will be more relaxing and enjoyable for everyone!

Is registration still required?

Yes, there will still be a registration process to let us know if you will be attending and to assist with planning. The registration process is being restructured to be much simpler and easier than ever -- stay tuned for details!

Why is the program being offered on two days?

We heard you! Having a choice of dates gives our employees more opportunities to attend.

Will there be different activities on different days?

No, each day has identical offerings, so you only need to register for one day.

What is this year's theme "Explore the Future" about?

Sessions will focus on understanding how to take care of our bodies and the earth to ensure a healthy future, and exploring careers that excite youth about the future.
