CITE Programs

All CITE workshops are carefully tailored to the needs of our clients. CITE collaborates with the client sponsor to identify training goals and learning objectives in order to customize current program repertoire or to create new material and training modules to meet client needs.

Level 1 Programs

Level 1 Programs enhance awareness of the complexity of the dynamics of problematic interaction in the workplace. CITE actors perform life-like dramatizations of problematic encounters, followed by interactive discussions in the form of Q&A. These programs have a maximum participant capacity of 85. Learn more about Level 1 program formats.

Level 1 Programs are 2 hours in length for one scenario, and 3 to 3 ½ hours for two scenarios, with a maximum participant capacity of 85. These programs enhance awareness of the complexity of the dynamics of problematic interaction in the workplace. Professional CITE actors perform life-like dramatizations of problematic encounters, followed by thoughtful and lively interactive discussions, in the form of questions and answers, between characters and audience members. CITE’s facilitator then guides participants in a discussion which enables them to:

- Think through what actually happened.
- Experience empathy for and identification with all the characters.
- Discuss multiple points of view.
- Discuss possible consequences of the interaction.
- Discuss possible solutions.
- Discuss strategies for prevention.

Program Information

Program length varies for format options. Participant size is limited to a maximum of 60 participants to ensure the depth and quality of the educational experience. Participants:

- Think through what actually happened in the scenario.
- Identify appropriate strategies for dealing with the problematic situation.
- Practice and test strategies through role-play with actors-in-character.
- Receive constructive feedback.
- Reflect on what was learned through the experience.

As with our Level 1 programming, CITE carefully tailors to the needs and environments of our clients. CITE collaborates with the client sponsor to:

- Identify training goals and learning objectives and
- Customize the program in response to organizational policy and practice and, when relevant, to national laws.

Client Responsibilities for Program Content:

Because Level 2 programs focus on problem-solving skills in the client’s unique environment, the client’s active involvement in program preparation is an essential component of a successful program. The client will provide and supervise the preparation of the following leadership roles:

Opening and closing remarks

Small group discussion leaders (2-4 people)

HR specialist and/or other appropriate person to provide information & critical feedback from the company’s perspective after each role-play

Level 2 Scenarios are derived from particular scenarios in our existing repertoire. Ask about current availability of topics, and topics under development. We will also create new material on demand pending the time frame of your program, and at an additional cost.

Customized Modules

At the request of the client, CITE will work closely with the client to create customized program formats utilizing interactive theatre in tandem with a variety of traditional training methods.

New Material Development

At the request of the client, CITE will work closely with the client to create new scenario material, which addresses problematic workplace issues not currently in our repertoire. New theatrical material may be developed for Level 1 and Level 2 programs, as well as for customized program modules.
