UPSTATE LIVING

Upstate NY offers a wide variety of exciting experiences! The breathtaking landscapes provide a multitude of outdoor recreational activities. Due to Ithaca being the home of Cornell University and Ithaca College, intellectually and culturally stimulating activities happen throughout the year. Regardless of your age, your interests, or the season of the year, you'll never run out of things to pursue.

The fertile land and clean lakes of Central NY produce an abundance of fresh and organic, locally grown fruits and vegetables. Located at the southern end of Cayuga Lake, in the heart of the Finger Lakes region, the City of Ithaca is also surrounded by numerous vineyards and breweries, many of which are nationally acclaimed.

Ithaca is truly a wonderful place to advance your career, raise a family, or even rest and retire. There are also many other beautiful towns, cities, and attractions within an hour radius of Ithaca. There is something Upstate for everyone to enjoy!

This guide provides a few of the many resources that may interest diverse faculty and staff. Many of the resources are referred by our Colleague Network Group members. This guide is not meant to serve as an all-encompassing list of resources or as recommendations. Use it as a starting point. There are always new business ventures and services that can add to your quality of life.

LOCAL HISTORIC FACTS

Check out the History Center of Tompkins County to learn more about the diverse history of our area.

Land Acknowledgement

Cornell University is located on the traditional homelands of the Gayogohó:nq' (the Cayuga Nation). The Gayogohó:nq' are members of the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, an alliance of six sovereign nations with a historic and contemporary presence on this land. The confederacy precedes the establishment of Cornell University, New York State, and the United States of America. We acknowledge the painful history of Gayogohó:nq' dispossession, and honor the ongoing connection of Gayogohó:nq' people, past and present, to these lands and waters. Learn more at the Ganondagan State Historic Site.

Women's Rights

The Seneca Falls Convention, the first women's rights convention, was a regional event held on July 19 - 20, 1848, in Seneca Falls, New York.

United States v. Susan B. Anthony

In a case that generated national controversy, Susan B. Anthony was arrested for voting in the presidential election of 1872. The judge directed the jury to deliver a guilty verdict and sentenced Anthony to pay a fine of $100. She responded, "I shall never pay a dollar of your unjust penalty", and she never did.

The Underground Railroad

The Underground Railroad was a network of secret routes and safe houses established during the early to mid-1800s. It was used by enslaved people to escape into free states and Canada with the aid of abolitionists who were sympathetic to their cause.

Born into slavery, Harriet Tubman escaped and subsequently rescued hundreds of enslaved people. During the American Civil War, she served as an armed scout and spy for the US Army. Harriet Tubman's home, now a museum, is located in Auburn, NY.

212 Cascadilla St. - The Birthplace of Verdelle Payne and Alex Haley

There is a historical marker at 212 Cascadilla St. to commemorate the birthplace of two trailblazers. On October 1, 1919, Verdelle Payne, a Tuskegee Airmen, the first African American military pilots in the U.S. Armed Forces, was born in this home. His parents rented a room to graduate students, Simon and Bertha Haley. On August 11, 1921, Alex Haley, author of the ground-breaking book "Roots" was born.

VOLUNTEER

Ithaca has numerous local non-profit organizations to find your interest and give back to your new community.

Connect with the community through service and social action! Serve on one of the hundreds of local nonprofit boards, or one of more than a dozen city commissions. Consider opportunities to volunteer on campus, events, and festivals already listed in this guide.

Benefits of giving your time to public service organizations:

- Meet new people and build a community
- Contribute to the vibrant communities in Tompkins County
- Practice a new skill

How to get started:

Reflect

- Consider which issue you want to lend your talents to. What is calling you to action?
- What type of organization is making the change you want to see?

Research

- Identify organizations that your new peer circles already have an existing relationship with e.g., neighbors who work or serve on the board of nonprofits or teach at local schools.
- Look at community calendars for outdoor festivals that often require volunteers.
- Check out the Cornell Community Relations Resource page for more information.

Reach Out

- Attend the Cornell Service Fair to meet the organizations. It is typically held in late September every year.
- Work with local nonprofit matchmakers such as United Way, VolunteerMatch.com, and Idealist.org to connect with an organization.
- Create a short list of organizations and reach out via phone, email, or social media.

C.S. AGRICULTURE

For the foodie or gardening enthusiast; a CSA is a great way to engage with your local farmers and food sources.

What is Community Supported Agriculture?

Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) is a mutually supportive and cooperative relationship between the producer and the consumer. The consumer pays for a crop "share" in advance, guaranteeing producers a market for their goods.

How does CSA benefit producers?

Share payment in advance eases a grower's financial burden in the early growing season and provides them both a market and an income. Because they know their market, they are less likely to over or under-produce.

How does CSA benefit consumers?

Shareholders are guaranteed a supply of fresh, quality produce during the growing season and possibly longer. They also have the unique opportunity to connect with the land on which their food is grown by assisting in production or visiting the farm regularly for pick-ups and shareholder events and keeping food dollars within the local economy.

How does CSA benefit the earth?

All CSA farms employ sustainable agricultural practices, such as organic farming, diversifying crops, minimizing waste by avoiding overproduction, and reducing packaging and transportation.

How do I participate in CSA?

Find a CSA farm that best suits your needs. Visit the farms to meet the owners and see the land. Review share prices (call farms for current prices), pick-up times and locations, length of season, products available, and special features of the CSA. Then contact the farm to join. Please note that most CSA's prefer you to purchase your share in the spring before the season begins.
