Parking Claims

You may submit your claim for reimbursement at the end of each month after the expense has been incurred. Attach a copy of the itemized bill from the provider (if available) showing the amount of your expense(s). The itemized statement should include the provider name and address; date the service was provided; a description of the type of service provided; and the dollar amount. Note: You are only eligible for reimbursement up to the monthly limit as established by the IRS.

Claims are subject to strict filing deadlines, so you must submit documentation showing that you have incurred the expense(s) in the timeframe established by the plan. Some exceptions may apply. This can include parking tickets and parking receipts. Note: You do not need documentation for the amount you pay for a parking meter. You can receive reimbursement with a completed and signed claim form. Also, there are times when the service provider does not provide a receipt. In that case, you can receive reimbursement with a completed and signed claim form.

I certify that I have incurred these eligible expenses. I understand that expenses incurred by my spouse and dependents are not eligible. I understand that "incurred" means the service has been provided. This is not when I am billed or charged for, or pay for, the service. I have not received reimbursement for any of these expenses. I will not seek reimbursement elsewhere. If I receive reimbursement, I and (if married) my spouse will not claim these same expenses on our income tax return. I further certify that if copies of receipts have not been provided, the provider does not provide receipts. I have received and read the printed material for the Parking plan and agree with all of the terms and conditions. Any person who, knowingly and with intent to defraud, files a statement of claim containing any material false, incomplete or misleading information is guilty of a crime.
